

Season's greetings to all our Bell Bulletin readers

As this is the last edition of the Bell Bulletin for 2016 we would like to take the opportunity to wish all our readers a safe and peaceful festive season and best wishes for the New Year.

Thank you for your support during the past year. We trust that you have enjoyed receiving and reading our publication as much as we've enjoyed putting it together for you and we look forward to bringing you more inspirational stories in 2017.
